After enjoying the summer vacation the students of ANITS started to attend classes afresh from June 20th, 2011

ORIENTATION PROGRAMME FOR FRESHERS

An orientation programme for the first year students of 2011-15 batch was conducted at ANITS from Aug 20th - 22nd, 2011. Speaking on the occasion, Mr. V. Thapovardhan, Secretary and Correspondent, ANITS apprised the parents and the students regarding the rigorous engineering programme conducted as per the norms of the Andhra University and the code of conduct to be followed by the students throughout their four year stay at the institution. He threw light on certain important aspects such as the necessity of the regular interaction of parents and faculty, continuous monitoring of the students’ progress and a vigilant yet caring supervision of the parents for the bright career of the young talent.

Prof. V.S.R.K. Prasad, Principal, ANITS strongly advised the parents to browse the college website at regular intervals, which provides the information about an individual student attendance, scores of Midterm examinations, important dates and announcements and all the important events. A power point presentation about the common amenities and other facilities was shown to the audience.

I-YEAR CSE-ORIENTATION PROGRAMME

An orientation program was organized on 24th August, 2011 for I year CSE students on the first day commencement of B.Tech program. The students were introduced to all the faculty and staff members, infrastructural facilities and various avenues like departmental association and other professional bodies. They were made to understand the academic practices and culture of the department and the importance of professional conduct. Student data including their strengths and weaknesses and their career interest was collected in the prescribed format to support further counseling and monitoring of the student. It was an interactive session held in collaboration with Millennium Soft Solutions.
A six day Faculty Development Program (13th – 18th June 2011) on “Instructional Design and Delivery System” was held at Anil Neerukonda Institute of Technology & Sciences (ANITS). Prof. Y. Satyanarayana, Hon’ble Vice-Chancellor, AP Law University, the Chief Guest of the function, addressed the gathering and highlighted how this kind of comprehensive training to the young faculty could invigorate their perception towards this noble profession. He reiterated that whether it is choice or chance, once chosen, one should do hundred percent justice to one’s profession. Prof. V.S.R.K. Prasad, Principal, who presided over the function, shared the insights and the expectation of the management from the faculty members. He congratulated the faculty members for their contribution in helping ANITS to secure “Centre of Excellence” award by Infosys. He also highlighted the proactive efforts of the management in providing excellent research and growth facilities to the faculty members which resulted in the growth of faculty members by 65% within the last two years.

Prof. Y. Satyanarayana, the Chief Guest gave the certificates to the faculty and congratulated them on their successful completion of the training which has certainly made them richer by experience. The programme concluded with an oath taken by the young faculty to put in their best efforts to improve the teaching learning process. Prof. R. Govardhana Rao, Director (Admin.), ANITS also shared his experiences with the faculty members. All the HoDs from various departments participated in the programme. Mrs. Paromita Mukherjee Ojha, Asst. Professor, English proposed vote of thanks.

Prof. B.G. Barki, Former Professor, NITTTR, the Chief Resource Person opined that an Institute’s growth is measured not by the physical infrastructure provided by the Management, but by the faculty who form the backbone of the values propagated among the young India. He also appreciated the positive attitude of the young trainees and their active participation throughout the programme that made his task a more enjoyable one. He specially complimented ANITS by his statement that among the Institutes where FDP programs are conducted, ANITS stands at the top.
